Shareholders of Kendriya Bhandar

1722. SHRI MOTIUR RAHMAN: Will the PRIME MINISTER be pleased to state:

(a) whether Kendriya Bhandar in violation of its bye-laws under MSCS Act, 2002 has enrolled employees of private sector as its shareholder/member and whether an existing shareholder on retirement from service/death cannot remain its member;

(b) if so, the action taken to remove such persons from the membership of the Bhandar, before holding the election; and

(c) if not, the reasons therefor?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF PERSONNEL, PUBLIC GRIEVANCES AND PENSIONS AND MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF PARLIAMENTARY AFFAIRS (SHRI SURESH PACHOURI): (a) Kendriya Bhandar has reported that as on 31.03.2006, there are 82056 individual shareholders of the Society and, in view of the substantially large number of shareholders, it would take some to verify whether the Society has enrolled employees of Private Sector as its shareholders/members. As per Byelaw 5(iii) of the Society, an existing shareholder, on retirement from service, would become Associate member. However, he would not be entitled for voting right nor would he be eligible for election as Delegate/Elected director. As regards membership of the shareholder in the event of his death, the byelaws provide that his nominee or successor may get his (deceased's) share transferred in his name provided he is qualified under the byelaws of the Society or alternatively be paid the value of his share less any amount due from him/her to the Society. All efforts are made, on the basis of available record, to remove the names of shareholders who have retired from the list of the shareholders who are eligible to vote for the election.
